

PlacesNow

Caden Jiang, William Cheng, Maggie Shi,
Will Thompson, Estella Dieci

Google Maps is on its own pretty slow, getting information goes through a long process through Google Map Maker, which then goes through a Google review process. Places Now hopes to solve this problem by crowdsourcing information about individual locations at specific times. The beach in Barceloneta is crowded? Your favorite basketball court is full? You'll know before you even leave your door.

